

World Events Add Need For Planting Of Home Gardens, Government Says

By Agricultural Extension Service

Day by day happenings of the world over are adding to the great need for Victory gardens and home food preservation. Food is being lost through transportation delays, lack of steel and labor shortages. Strikes are taking their toll. Thousands are drawing unemployment insurance rather than working on farms.

The world needs food as never before. Americans can't sit complacently with hands folded and eat well while the rest of the world starves. There is no one who dies of hunger, nor will it be our children who are permanently weakened.

But, it will be our children who will pay the penalty in world hatred for our selfishness. They will pay for the food delays resulting from shortages of steel, of coal, of shipping caused by strikes—all evidences of human selfishness and shortsightedness.

Not Too Late

It's never too late in Southern California to begin a garden. Right now it is not too late to plant warm season crops such as tomatoes, beans, sweet corn, summer and winter squash. Tomatoes will grow rapidly and if planted by the first of July will make a crop well before frost. Sweet corn can be planted until late July. Sweet potatoes will make a small crop even though planted as late as the first of July. They should be allowed to grow until frost.

Such crops as these can be stored, canned, or dried for winter use. They are all high in food value and can be used as substitutes for wheat, rice, etc., which will be exported to starving peoples in Europe and Asia.

Other Crops

Leaf lettuce, carrots, chard, mustard greens, beets, turnips, spinach and onion seed or sets for green onions can all be planted now. Defeat starting cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower until August or September. Late August is the season for planting the fall crop of Irish potatoes and is the earliest that garden peas should be planted.

With reduced supplies of meat, eggs and poultry the family diet will need every addition you can make. Your garden is more important now than it was during the war.

BUTTERFAT PRICE INCREASE UPS MILK 1 CENT PER QUART

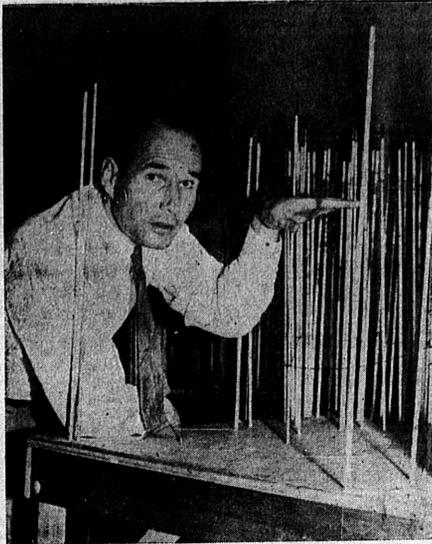

Southland consumers now pay one cent a quart more for milk than they did last week.

At the same time, buttermilk and chocolate milk sell for one-half cent per quart more and the table cream containing 36 percent butterfat carries a ceiling one cent higher per half pint.

Milk producers were allowed a price increase of ten and one-half cents per pound of butter fat and that this increase was being passed along to the retail level.

WORLD AT PEACE

Given the prospect of a world high level of employment can be held below 20 billion dollars and still provide the administrative and social services that the modern national state can provide, Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York said.

TOO MUCH WATER BEING USED . . . J. F. Poland, geologist with the Department of Interior, demonstrates peg model water well map of West Basin. Each rod represents a water well. Building Materials Production Aids Announced By CPA Region

Prospects for Southern California's first mail factory loomed bright today, Louis M. Dreyes of Los Angeles, regional director of the Civilian Production Administration, revealed in a preliminary report on plans to speed production of critical building materials.

Each molder, thus speeding production of fixtures.

Reports from the Civilian Production Administration's district office in San Diego disclosed that the largest recent approval was a United States Gypsum Corporation application for a $900,000 addition to its plant to house $1,600,000 of manufacturing and processing equipment for the production of critically needed building materials. Officials were in conference during the past week with contractors in connection with the project.

Sierra Lumber Products, Pasadena, has moved resaw equipment to its plant at Brownsville, Ore., to help break the famine of lumber sizes suitable for veterans' housing construction. One of the firm's officials, Eugene Payne, now is at the Oregon mill in connection with installation of the resaw equipment. Considerable lumber has been arriving in Southern California in sizes unsuitable for housing construction, and one of the bottlenecks has been insufficient resaw facilities to convert the stock into such usable sizes as two by fours and one by sixes.

To help the Riverside Cement Co., double production at Oro Grande, Calif., the Civilian Production Administration approved construction of five Quonset huts, each to provide two apartments, to attract workers to the cement plant, which is five miles from Victorville. The huts will cost $25,000.

Republicans To Rally For First Time In Years

Nominees of the Republican Party will be honored with a Victory Rally and dinner Thursday evening, June 20, in the coral room of the Roder Young Pacific Isle on Washington Blvd., John S. Barcome, chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Los Angeles County announced yesterday.

Sponsored jointly by the central committee and all Republican groups, the Victory Rally marks the first official party social affair of Los Angeles County in years. "The rally is two-fold in purpose," said Barcome. "First, we are proud of the Republican Party's nominees and this is the first opportunity of the members to meet all of the party standard-bearers of statewide district and county-wide offices; second, we are preparing for the most intensive campaign in our history this November. This rally fires the opening gun of the Republican Party campaign."

The quarterly meeting of the officers and regional directors of the statewide California Republican Assembly will be held

Among speakers will be Senator Elbert D. Thomas of Utah, Donald M. Nelson, president of the Independent Society of Motion Picture Producers; Dr. Pittman B. Potter of the American Society of International Law in Washington, D. C.; W. C. Mulendore, president of the Southern California Edison Company; and Alvin Eichelz of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

next Saturday and Sunday, June 15 and 16 in the Billmore Hotel, it was announced yesterday by Harrison McCall, secretary.

"SOMETHING YOUR GEAR TEETH CAN SINK INTO!"

"Hungry" teeth in hypoid gears lead to unnecessary wear—and repair bills. That's why RPM Hypoid Lubricant is compounded to resist the rolling-sliding action of hypoid gears, which often "wipes" off ordinary lubricants. RPM Hypoid Lubricant resists wear by keeping a tough lubricant-film on teeth at all temperatures. It's free from abrasives, won't harm finely finished surfaces, and its anti-foaming agent prevents overflow into housings, leakage onto brake linings. Ask us for booklet.
